3 Clock Hours for Educators

The NetSmartz Internet Safety Train-the-Trainers Seminar is a FREE workshop for teachers, counselors, school administrators, school resource officers and law enforcement agencies. Following the NetSmartz Training Program, educators will 1) understand the need to teach Internet safety to students, 2) be able to teach students, grades K-12, how to be safer when using the Internet, and 3) be able to use NetSmartz on-and offline activities to teach Internet safety and understand how to incorporate such activities into the classroom.

All participants will receive a NetSmartz Resource Kit which will contain materials that can be used to teach, not only students about Internet safety, but which can also be used to train other trainers; educators and law enforcement personnel in Washington State. The Resource Kit will also contain video presentations which can be used to teach students about cyberbullying and powerpoint presentations which can be used to teach parents, guardians or community leaders about Internet safety.

The NetSmartz Workshop, developed by the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children (NCMEC) and Boys & Girls Clubs of America (BGCA), combines the latest 3-D and web technologies available, and the most current information on Internet safety, to create high impact, age-appropriate activities, videos and challenges for students K-12, that entertain while educating students about Internet safety.

The NetSmartz Internet Safety Train the Trainer Seminars were made possible by partnership with ESD101's Ed Tech Support Center, the Seattle Police Dept. NW Regional Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force (ICAC), the Spokane United States Attorney's Office in conjunction with it's Project Safe Childhood Initiative, Washington State Attorney General McKenna, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Department of Homeland Security and NetSmartz.
